Global Challenges Scholarships, Lincoln University, New Zealand

https://beasiswaindo.com/scholarships/global-challenges-scholarships-lincoln-university-new-zealand/

As an International Global Challenges Scholar, you will take part in a development programme designed to enhance your social entrepreneurship skills through design, problem-solving, co-operative work, thorough research and critical thinking.

You will work in groups to develop social entrepreneurship models with the assistance of mentors who will help you to turn your ideas into action. You will learn by working with issues within your own communities, where you have the power to create global change and positive impact.

You'll also liaise with Lincoln University staff and alumni, who will use their areas of expertise to help you to address specific issues.

The scholarship also involves working with the SchoolsLinc team in secondary schools to spread the word about global challenges. The aim is to encourage younger generations to get involved in Lincoln's three key missions of Feeding the World, Protecting the Future and Living Well through the Global Challenges Programme for Schools.

The University will pay $12,000 (NZD) towards one year of your tuition fees. You may have the opportunity to reapply for future years if you have met all the requirements of the programme.

Are You Eligible?
To be eligible for a Global Challenges Scholarship as an international student, you must:

- Be eligible to enrol in an undergraduate degree at Lincoln
- Have completed secondary school in the past five years, achieved well academically and not attended another tertiary institution in New Zealand (if you have completed a diploma, undergraduate or postgraduate degree at other international institutions, you are not eligible for this scholarship)

- Have a strong academic background that demonstrates your ability to undertake and complete a university degree while maintaining involvement in scholarship activities
- Have a very good grasp of English, with an overall score of 6 in IELTS (or similar qualification), as the scholarship development programme has a strong focus on communication and co-operative work.

If you:

- Have done English language or foundation studies overseas, you will be accepted if you meet the other criteria
- Are completing a Diploma in University Studies at Lincoln University, you can apply for your following year (if successful, you will enter the programme in your second year of the degree, but as a first year on the scholarship programme).

NOTE: To qualify as a Diploma of University Studies student, you must pass all 100-level papers and maintain a B average.
